

Introducing Vox Mobile's DaaS + MMS™ for Apple® Program

Empower the mobile enterprise. Enable choice.

Mobility has transformed how people work. When it comes to mobile technology at work, employees prefer Apple® products. Employee choice not only drives job satisfaction and retention but empowers individuals to be more productive. However, many businesses are ill-equipped or lack the resources to support iOS and Mac® devices for an entire enterprise. They also struggle managing a multitude of supplier contracts, complicated cellular billing agreements, huge numbers and variety of devices, rapidly changing technology, security threats, and extremely high user expectations.

DaaS + MMS for Apple Program simplifies mobility and drives productivity.

Vox Mobile introduces Device-as-a-Service (DaaS) + Managed Mobility Services (MMS) for Apple Program to greatly simplify the design, device procurement, deployment, management and support of enterprise applications on iOS and macOS®.

This all-inclusive program provides companies with the best products and platforms for business combined with the best end-to-end lifecycle managed services – all for one affordable monthly price (starting as low as $15/device). Businesses benefit from lower capital and operational costs, while improving employee satisfaction and freeing up resources to accelerate strategic IT and line-of-business initiatives.
